

RUB UTENSIL WITH OIL AND MILK WON'T BURN

Chilly Days of Autumn Give One Desire to Drink Something Warm at Noon Luncheon—Mrs. Wilson Makes Several Suggestions.

BY MRS. M. A. WILSON.

(Copyright, 1919, by Mrs. M. A. Wilson.)
Chilly November days give one the desire to drink something warm with the noon luncheon. Now, milk, cream, chocolate and cocoa all furnish the required additional good units necessary for the bodily comfort during the fall and winter months.

Milk liquifies come on to prevent the milk from scorching while it is being heated. This brings to my mind an old Southern mammy's instructions regarding this delicious product. "Do you all know dat ifen you jest rub de bottom of yo' saucepan 'till it's white, yo' milk won't burn."

So take this smart trick right into your kitchen and keep in mind that a little coating of oil or lard on the bottom of the saucepan will prevent the milk from scorching. This is particularly true if the saucepan has had food that has been scorched in it while cooking.

Hot Milk, Canadian Style.
Place two cups of milk in a prepared saucepan and heat slowly to the boiling point. Now, while the milk is heating, place in a bowl:

One egg.
One-half-cup of water.
Two tablespoons sugar.

Beat the quarter and nutmeg, stir into the scalding milk. Beat hard with an egg beater and remove from the stove at once. Serve. This amount will serve five persons.

Creamed Soup.
Left over vegetables, well cleaned green tops of celery, peas, beans and lentils may be used to provide variety. The liquid drained from canned vegetables may also be used. Oysters, fish and small pieces of leftover meat or chicken when combined with milk make soups, attractive and nourishing soups.

How to Prepare.
Rub one-half cup of leftover vegetables through a sieve and add two cups of cream stock, prepared as follows, placed in a saucepan:

One cup of milk.
Four tablespoons of flour.
One teaspoon of salt.
One egg to dissolve and then bring to a boil and add the prepared vegetables and simmer slowly for ten minutes. Season and serve, garnishing with one tablespoon of finely chopped parsley, cooked peas, beans, tomatoes, cabbage.

"Fiddlers Three" Proves Hit.

"Fiddlers Three," played from Broadway by Joan Cort, played and sang its way into the heart of its first audience at the Lyric Theatre last night with a quickness and sureness seldom accorded a musical comedy. It is a decided hit. The production is a masterpiece of the kind, the music and the cast. All were excellent. The production is a masterpiece of the kind, the music and the cast. All were excellent. Considerable stress in local military circles these days is being laid on hats made of combinations of cloth and fur or velvet or some other fabric. The outstanding feature of the military materials, according to the bulletin of the Retail Millinery Association of America, is that they may be used for almost any type of hat, the distinction between the models being in the shape and the trimming. The bulletin goes on:

"One manufacturer has included in his line several very smart effects, one of which is a large mushroom with a brim of gold lace. Along the edge of the brim and around the crown is a gold cloth. Around the base of the crown is a band of mole fur, finished at the front with a small gold cloth ornament. Also rather attractive in this line is a small roll brim model, the brim of which is made of silver lace. The crown is made of black cloth and has an upper brim of black satin. The trimming consists of a little gold thread stitching on the edge of the brim.

Do not use gasoline in cleaning leather upholstery. Plain water, with a little ammonia, will remove the dirt, and a brisk rubbing with a clean wooden or flannel cloth will do the rest. For still more careful treatment use a regular dressing.

WHITE BEADS ARE THE FAD
Some are of white bone. And others are of shiny porcelain. And white they are, usually, though some have the delicate pink flecks of the white coral. The beads are of generous size, graduated, usually, and are in that length which extends five or six inches from the base of the throat. And they look extremely well on dark gowns and cloth frocks.
